NO TRACE OF SCHNELLBACK.

Police Are Looking for Mrs. Schilling's Assailant.

Bullet Not Extracted, but There Are Hopes of Her Recovery.

SCARSDALE, N. Y., May 10.—Police are actively engaged in the search for Joseph Schnellback, who shot his way-in-law, Mrs. Schilling, Tuesday evening. So far not a trace of him has been found.

Dr. Curtis, of White Plains, who is attending the wounded woman, said this forenoon that he had hopes she would recover.

He has not yet extracted the bullet which is lodged in her back, near the spinal column. Owing to her weakened condition, he thought it better to delay the probing until she has recovered in a measure from the shock.

William Schilling, the woman's husband, was seen this morning by an "Evening World" reporter. He said he was at a loss to account for the motive which prompted Schnellback to shoot his wife unless it was that he expected to find some money in the house.

If, however, robbery was Schnellback's motive, he was evidently frustrated at the critical moment, as he made off without attempting to ransack the house. The scene of the shooting was a little Summer kitchen, which has been built on the house in the rear of the main house by means of a little flight of steps. A big red stain in front of the well-pollished stone shows where the woman fell after Schnellback fired the second shot, which entered her left eye and passed out near the left temple.

Mr. Schilling described the shooting to-day as told him by his wife on her return from work about 5 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Schilling was preparing supper and had stepped around behind the stove to take some wood from the box when Schnellback, who stood near the door, fired the first shot.

The injured woman is being attended by her sister and brother-in-law from Kingsbridge.

No one has been found who saw Schnellback leave the house. Schilling says that he saw the assailant, a man of the name of Schnellback, who had been to the scene of the shooting. None of the members saw anybody go to or leave Schilling's house Tuesday afternoon.

POLICE FIGHT SOLDIERS.

Corporal Inglehart Killed at Rio Grande City, Tex.

At the Front in the suburbs of the town, there was a shooting scrape between the police officers and United States soldiers.

The trouble began with the arrest of five soldiers for carrying pocket knives to the front.

In the struggle, Corporal Inglehart was shot in the chest and killed instantly.

The shooting was renewed, and Corporal Inglehart was shot through the head and killed instantly.
